Summary

Creator: Unknown
Title: Papers of Frances English: Letters regarding Blue poles acquisition
Date range: 1973-1974
Reference number: MS 86
Extent: 1 binder

Overview

Contains letters from artists, historians, authors and curators who responded to an open letter to the Prime Minister, Gough Whitlam, about James Mollison’s (Director of the Australian National Gallery, 1977-1989) decision, and the Australian Government’s subsequent agreement, to purchase Jackson Pollock’s Blue poles. Includes correspondence, one greeting card, newspaper articles and copied newspaper articles.

Keywords

Blue poles, petition, taxpayers, Australian National Gallery, Prime Minister, Australian artists, art dealers, Labor Government, committee, policy, commission.

Key Names

Betty Archdale, John Brackenreg, Manning Clark, Leonard Cox, William Dargie, Reid Douglas, Frances English, Dorothy Green, Keith Hancock, S S Hawke, Mr Ben

- 1 -

Administrative Information

Access

Contact the National Gallery of Australia Research Library reference desk librarians. Phone +61 2 6240 6530 Email rlr@nga.gov.au

Provenance

This collection was purchased through gallery funding.

Preferred Citation Note

MS 86 Papers of Frances English: Letters regarding Blue poles acquisition, [Description and date of item], [Box/folder number], National Gallery of Australia Research Library Archives, National Gallery of Australia, Canberra.

Biographical Note

Blue poles is an American painting that has become an Australian icon. This archive holds records of the responses of various authoritative people, for the short period of time spanning 1972 to 1973, in regards to the purchase in 1972 of Jackson Pollock’s Blue poles (1952). These records offer insight and greater context into the furore and controversy that surrounded the acquisition of Blue poles.

With government and council approval James Mollison acquired Blue poles for the ANG (1973) after the art dealer and gallery director Max Hutchinson brokered a deal with Ben Heller to sell the monumental painting, the last of its size painted by Pollock. The ensuing media reaction created controversy of legendary proportions in particular regarding the then government’s (1972–975) involvement. Over time the painting has become a major drawcard of the NGA’s collection and is on permanent display.
The significance of this work of art is important for myriad reasons including as an acquisition precedent for public collecting institutions, promoting the international value of the NGA collection, increasing public awareness of art and recognising the social context of the time, culturally, politically and economically when regarding art.

Associated Content

Subject

International art, American Abstract Expressionism

Relationship to the National Gallery of Australia Research Library

The Research Library also holds the papers of the art dealer Max Hutchinson (Papers of Marion Kaselle) from his American galleries, the Papers of Gallery A, Max Hutchinson's Australian galleries and the Hogarth Galleries where an exhibition titled Artists for Whitlam was held (included in the 1974 file is an open letter to 'All Australian Art Lovers'. The International Art and Artist files for both Jackson Pollock and Lee Krasner are also held in the Research Library.

Relationship to the National Gallery of Australia Collection

Jackson Pollock's Blue poles is a highly significant work of art held in the national collection. Other works by Pollock are held in the collection and works by Lee Krasner, Pollock’s wife, are also held in the national collection.

Acronyms used

ANG – Australian National Gallery (prior to 1992)
NGA – National Gallery of Australia (1992–current)

Binder Description

Binder 1
- Auction Lot description
- Auction list of contents ‘Blue Poles Letters’
- Letter to Mrs Frances English from Peter Sculthorpe’s secretary, 13th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs Frances English from Patrick White, 17th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from John Perceval, 6th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Sali Herman, 1st November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from William Dargie, 19th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Kenneth Jack, 2nd November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Keith Hancock, 1st November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Manning Clark, 8th January 1974
- Letter to Mrs English from Margaret Priest, 7th November 1973
- Letter to Frances from Alan Marshall, 29th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Betty Archdale, 18th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Dorothy Green, 15th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Ursula Hoff, 12th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Leonard Cox, 10th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from Kylie Tennant, 12th November 1973
- Open letter to the Prime Minister, Mr Whitlam from S. S. Hawke F. R. A. S.
- Open letter to the Prime Minister, Mr Whitlam (edited) from Dora Toovey
- Letter to Mrs English from Reid Douglas, 6th October
- Letter to Mrs English from Reid Douglas, 27th October
- Letter to Mrs English from John Brackenreg, 16th November
- Letter to Mrs English from H. R. Henderson, 6th November 1973
- Letter to Mrs English from G. Sargent on behalf of Colin Roderick, 22nd November 1973
- Letter to the editor of The Canberra Times from Colin Sykes, 21st November 1973
- Letter to Frances from Colin Sykes, 8th November with attachment newspaper article National Gallery on way Sydney Morning Herald, 8th November 1973
- Card bearing reproduction of Jackson Pollock’s Blue Poles 1952 and season’s greetings from the Prime Minister and Mrs Gough Whitlam, December 1973, includes accompanying envelope
Newspaper article: NGA at a mere 30 years of age houses nation’s most valuable collection by Julieanne Strachan, The Canberra Times, 13th October 2012

Newspaper article: The Perils of Art in Sydney Town by Patrick White, Sydney Morning Herald, 11th November, 1974

Newspaper article: ‘Blue Poles’ report ‘complete hogwash’

Copied newspaper article: Canberra’s long-running serial Blue Poles: episode 1 by Lea Fitzgerald, The Australian Financial Review, 26th September 1973

Copied newspaper article: Sali blasts our $1,300,000 ‘masterpiece’ the Manly Daily 25th October 1973

Copied newspaper articles: Painting produced in drunken orgy? Sydney Daily Mirror, 15th October 1973 and Man who paid $1.3m confirms drunks story The Australian, 8th November

Copied newspaper article: Ben Heller blues A summary of the Pollock purchase saga Melbourne Herald, 17th October 1973